JEROME'S JAUNDICE

alleged that Thaw was driven to a state of insanity when he took Stanford White's life because of the story she told him. The law does not concern itself with the truth or falsity of that story. The prosecution of course cannot hope to combat her statement that she told the story, and the only thing the district attorney can do is to attempt to show the jury, by attacking her credibility, that it is improbable that she ever told to Thaw the story which she had detailed on the stand.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Evelyn Thaw's severe cross-examination came to an end late today. Attorneys for the defense then introduced evidence written by the defendant in 1903, which completely corroborated the claim that the girl did tell him the story of her relations with Stanford White. This letter was one of a dozen read to the jury to corroborate young Mrs. Thaw's testimony and to show the effect of her story on Thaw's mind. Jerome's objections were overruled as Thaw himself had made a waiver of confidential relations between client and counsel when Frederick W. Longfellow, his former attorney, appeared on the stand to identify the letters. The letters all referred to the young woman's history and spoke of her in the highest terms. Many of the sentences were rambling and incoherent. Tomorrow Thaw's will and codicil made at the time of his marriage to Miss Nesbit will be proved and introduced in evidence. Next will follow the testimony of Miss Belle M. Lawrence, of California, Thaw's teacher when he was six years old and when he could not talk intelligibly, it is said. Miss Lawrence kept a diary in which she made many entries regarding Thaw, and an effort will be made to introduce it in evidence. Insanity experts should be reached not later than Thursday afternoon and the defense hopes to close by Friday night. A week later Thaw's fate should be in the hands of the jury.

ANOTHER LAKE MYSTERY.

Chicago to the Front With a Regulation Session.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Floating in the lake at the foot of Sixtieth street the body of a woman was found yesterday. The body was almost headless and there was no clothing. An attempt will be made today to ascertain whether she drowned or was thrown into the water, after being murdered. The lack of clothing is believed to indicate murder.

Two clean cuts were found directly under the heart. These cuts, the police assert, could not have been made by the use of anything other than a knife or some sharp instrument. A gash nine inches long was also found across the abdomen. A few wisps of blond hair were found on the back of the neck which aid in identification.

The body which was that of a woman weighing about 135 pounds had probably been in the water for two months. It is estimated that she was about five feet four inches in height and between 25 and 35 years old. The hands are small and the muscles soft which leads the police to believe that the woman was of the leisure class.

FIVE HUNDRED BRIDES.

Windy City Springs the Star Beginning Yarn of the Day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Amelia Jaeger, who conducts a rooming house in Chicago, can claim one five-hundredth part of the affection of Dr. George A. Wilchoff, whose career of polygamy has just been revealed by his arrest at Bristol, England. For a brief period, she was, or supposed she was, Mrs. G. A. Wilchoff, then she lost only the fractional part of Wilchoff's love which she possessed but also $500 which carelessly she had left on the chiffonier. Like most of the other 499 brides Mrs. Jaeger wishes the multifarious bride groom could be released from custody just long enough for her to have a short chat with him.

"I would just like to meet him," she said yesterday, with some fervor. "I feel I could pull his heart out."

Mrs. Jaeger is 47 years old. She had been a widow for 14 years when in 1905 she met Wilchoff then known as Anton Dobler. As soon as he learned she had money in the bank, he is said to have begun an ardent courtship. They were married on August 3, 1905, and five days later Wilchoff disappeared along with the $500 which his bride had drawn from a savings bank to start him in the saloon business.

He was said to have eloped to New York with Mrs. Adam Heinrich, wife of a pastry cook.

BRYAN IN KENTUCKY.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 21.—The climax of Bryan's visit to Frankfort was reached this afternoon when he spoke to the Democratic members of the legislature behind closed doors, advocating the election of Beckham as United States Senator. Bryan said that neither Beckham nor anyone else invited him to Frankfort. He declared he had no fears for himself if he came to Kentucky.

"I am not afraid of hurting myself when the interests of the Democratic party are at stake," said Bryan. He said that he might or might not be a candidate for the Presidency this year. "If what I say here affects my chances of election, it is not a sufficient bribe to keep my mouth closed, and I am in the habit of saying what I think and letting every man in the world think of it as he pleases."

Bryan said he had come to support the Democratic nominee and if McCreery were nominee he would be here to speak for him. He said he was here because he thinks the Democrats have a good chance winning this year, and whoever may be the Democratic standard-bearer, Bryan says he knows it takes a Democratic Senate and House to back him up. He declared that all the popularity of the Republican President has come from the adoption of Democratic principles and reform. He said he could not depend on having a Democratic Senate as it takes an overwhelming victory to get that body, but may get the House and secure enough votes in the Senate to secure Democratic reforms. "On vote of one Senator may rest his fate on Democratic reforms."

CAN'T HOLD MEETING.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Ben L. Reitman, whom the police say desires to pose as a second Coxey and the universal friend of hoboes was today notified by the chief of police that any attempt to hold a mass meeting of hoboes, Socialists, anarchists and other idlers under the banner of "unemployed" on the lake front next Sunday will not be tolerated, and that if the order is disobeyed, the "unemployed" would discover what the mounted police could do in such emergencies. It was learned that the occasion was to be seized upon by anarchists, Socialists and other professional preachers of discontent to air their views. Many of the "unemployed" fled from the municipal lodging house and Salvation Army barracks when they were ordered to take a bath and do one day's work on the streets in return for food, lodging and clothing for three days.

FREIGHT RATES INCREASED.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Just why Chicago, Minneapolis and Northwest merchants should find their freight rates increased under various pretexts, while at the same time, no change in rates was made in St. Louis to the merchants of the Southwest, occupied the attention of Interstate Commerce Commissioner Prouty yesterday. The case, which is recorded as that of Wyman, Partridge & Company, Minneapolis, wholesale dry goods dealers, versus the Boston and Maine, New York, New Haven & Hartford, Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, and the Lackawanna with the lake shipping lines which they either own or control, received its initial hearing. At the end of the day Commissioner Prouty adjourned the hearing until March. The basis of the complaint which is being brought by Minneapolis and Chicago merchants, with the support of the commercial associations of both cities, rises out of the increase of the rail and water rates inaugurated in March and July of last year. The old freight rate for rail and water routes was 59 cents. In March all routes joined in increasing the rate to Chicago and Minneapolis merchants to 61 cents and followed in July with another announced increase of 1 per cent.

To mollify the shippers the companies announced that the rate would include marine insurance on all goods in transit. But while they made this concession to Chicago merchants as a basis of the extra three cents, they made the same concession to St. Louis merchants with no increase in the freight rate. The hearing before the commissioner on the charge that discrimination to individuals and as between localities was being made by the transportation companies resulted.

MESSAGE ON TRUSTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—It became known yesterday that President Roosevelt intends sending to Congress very soon a message making recommendations for remedial legislation in the matter of the employers' liability act, which will meet the objections of the Supreme Court in its recent decision declaring the law unconstitutional. Coupled with this the President expects to say something about the general subject of trusts the exact nature of which is not disclosed.

BIG CHINESE ROW.

Discarded Tong Leader Will Try For Reinstatement.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—All the Chinese of high and low degree from New York to San Francisco and a good many white people, are interested in the forthcoming trial of Hip Lung for the murder of Chin Wai, in South Clark street, last October. Dark secrets of the On Long Tong may be exposed before the evidence is concluded. Hip Lung, whose real name is Moy Dong Chew, is the king of Chicago Chinatown. At one time he was worth considerably over $100,000 but he lost it all during the World's Fair. Hip's petition for release from the county jail on habeas corpus will be heard by Judge Chaffin tomorrow. Everything indicates that the trial will be a hard fought battle on both sides. There are many thousands of dollars in Chinatown for Hip Lung's defense, including the coffers of the On Long Tong. The Chin family has nearly as much money to spend in aiding the prosecution.

Lyman Gage, formerly secretary of the treasury, who has known Hip Lung for many years, it became known yesterday, was asked to come here from Pasadena, Cal., to testify in his behalf.

Chin Wai, according to the evidence on which Hip Lung and three others were indicted, on January 13, was a Chinese salesman and gambler. He refused to join the On Long Tong and for that reason he was killed, according to the theory of former Mayor Edward F. Dunne, chief attorney for the prosecution. The tong is an association of Chinese merchants and includes most of the Mongolians in South Clark street.

DATE OF RUEF'S TRIAL.

MAIL ROBBERS ARRESTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Postoffice Inspector Dennis Coyne swore to complaints before United States Commissioner Peacock yesterday charging Robert W. Harwood, Jos. Reilly and George Godfrey with having robbed the United States mails of two registered packages valued at $100 and $5 respectively at Marysville on January 14.

Harwood was the driver of the mail wagon between the postoffice and railroad station and claimed that on that morning he was held up by two men who beat him over the head and then rifled the registered pouch.

After a brief investigation Coyne became convinced Harwood was implicated in the robbery and secured a confession in which the driver admitted he had planned the robbery with Reilly, but that before it was undertaken Reilly, brought in Godfrey and the latter, determining to cut Harwood out of the enterprise, beat him on the head with a revolver and left him out of the division. Harwood and Reilly were then placed under arrest and later Godfrey was captured in Sacramento. They will be brought here for hearing.
